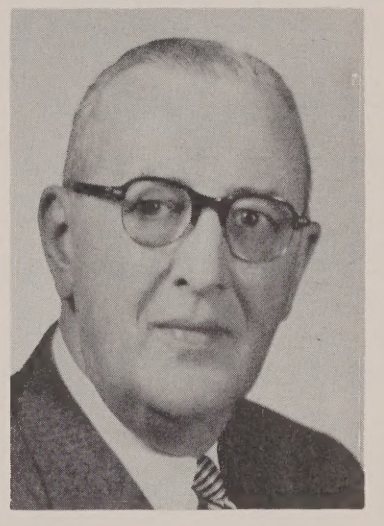
Tradition –

JOSEPH L. MALONE
English Head Master

By LEE J. DUNN, Jr., '61
Latin Undergraduate Manager of Football

After the game has ended, the furor has died down, the bands have dispersed, and the fans have wended their homeward ways in a joyous or sad mood, according to their partisanship, what will remain of this the seventy-fourth meeting between the two oldest schoolboy rivals in the country? Besides the memories of a game won or lost, there will remain that one element which completely envelops the heritage of both English High and Latin School and their annual "Turkey Day" meeting — and that element is tradition. This tradition is not merely a word but an almost tangible existence. It not only surrounds the students and masters of both these fine schools, but completely encompasses the whole attitude of Soldiers' Field this morning. For the past three months, this tradition has motivated the drill teams in their practice of precision marching, the bands in their rehearsing, and both teams in their journey to the culmination of the season, "The Game." In speaking of tradition today, however, we can not forget the men who helped fabricate it and in their own times were themselves motivated by it. Of those who saw it, who will ever forget the fine line play by both teams in the fourth of the scoreless ties in 1909. Who will ever forget "Buddy" McLaughlin's two touchdowns and pass for the P. A. T. to defeat a favored English squad in 1934? It was English's day in 1944 when a B. L. S. fumble in its own end zone

November 24, 1960



JOHN J. DOYLE
Latin Head Master

gave the Blue a come-from-behind victory. The one game that stands out in my mind, however, was the sensational come back staged by the valiant sons of B. L. S. two years ago today, when their victory capped their first undefeated - untied season in a decade.

Tradition has made this game probably more important than any of the others. This year the series is tied for the first time in 35 years; and if Latin School should be victorious today, it will be for the first time in 36 years that B. L. S. will have led in the series.

Thus the stage is set, the drill teams have marched in practice for the last time, the bands have had their last pre-game rehearsal and late yesterday afternoon both squads for the last time this season walked off their practice fields.

All is in readiness. It is now left to the contesting squads who will win, who will carry home the honors of victory, and who will break the tie.

It goes without saying that this game will live up to the standard of those played in the past, that it too will someday be remembered by the graduating classes of B. L. S. and E. H. S. as "The Game." That it too will become a part of that which motivated all on Soldiers' Field on November 24, 1960 — tradition.

In Memoriam

It is with deep sorrow and regret that we learned of the death on Sunday, November 13, 1960, of a dear friend and benefactor of The English High School, Joseph Kaplan, of the Class of 1915.

His abiding interest in The English High School was indicated by frequent letters to the Head Master, cards to members of our faculty, attendance at alumni reunions, and generous scholarships to our graduates.

A noted industrialist, he gave generously of his means to establish hospitals and to foster educational and research programs at the university level.

His presence at our graduation exercises annually was always keenly anticipated, and his passing will be mourned by all who knew him. His life was truly one of Honor and Achievement through Service to Mankind.

The Last Joint English-Latin Team 1885

How many of our loyal Alumni and potential Alumni realize that this keen gridiron rivalry now existing between the two hallowed institutions has not always been so, as this rare photograph, depicting a composite squad of formidable English and Latin stalwarts from the almost legendary dawn of football, clearly demonstrates. This fierce aggregation played three games of record, losing twice to West Roxbury High School by close scores, and once (25-8) to a Newton team liberally sprinkled with "ringers."

SIXTY YEARS AGO 14th Game of the Series

1900 — South End Grounds . . . BLS 12 EHS 6 . . . According to forecast the day was to be "clear and colder." At game time, however, the mercury had dropped 15 degrees and it was snowing. The first period of 25 minutes gave thrills to rooters of both teams as the game was hard fought on a muddy field. Captain Tom Connelly had scored a touchdown for English with Fred Bogardus kicking the point-after and Dan Hurley making a touchdown for Latin with Captain Owen McGrath kicking the point-after, this making a 6 to 6 score. During the intermission between periods, spectators climbed over the low fence from each side and a snowball fight ensued. Many hits but nobody hurt. Midway in the second period of 20 minutes, faking a punt formation Captain McGrath made the longest run of the game, being stopped on the 10-yard line by "Cracker" Kennedy. On fourth down, a tackles back play with Bob Guild carrying the ball, went through a hole opened by Frank Littlefield and "Deak" Witherby for the touchdown with Capt. McGrath converting for the extra point. With this victory went the City Championship. Latin School used only eleven men: Armstrong and Harris, ends; Guild and "Con" Hurley, tackles; Witherby and Devonshire, guards, with Littlefield at centre; Capt. McGrath, quarterback, Dan Hurley and Arthur McCarty as halfbacks and Gene Sullivan as fullback. English had Bogardus and Sullivan as ends. Captain Connelly played L. T. against Con Hurley while Hatton, Canne, and Harrison appeared at right tackle against Guild. Collins and McCormick were the guards with Allen as centre; the backfield had Kennedy at Q. B. with McCrudden and Manahan as halfbacks with Bragdon as fullback. Tom Maguire was Latin School Coach with Ed Sherlock as English Coach.

FIFTY YEARS AGO 24th Game of the Series

1910 — Huntington Avenue Grounds . . . BLS 9 EHS 0 Splendid day . . . first in years . . . 41° temp. . . . attendance 6,000. This was Fred J. O'Brien's second year as Latin Coach and the tenth season for English coach John D. O'Reilly. This game was just as close as the score shows. Both the teams were very well coached with strong lines and good backfields, but neither offensive was strong enough to get within the twenty-yard line. Four eleven-minute periods were played. The goals from the field no longer counted five points, having been reduced to 3 points. Thrice on third down Captain Malcolm Logan kicked field goals. BLS presented Pete McLellan and Ernie Soucy, LE; Bill O'Hare and Bill Barry, LT; Bill Pendergast, LG; John Murphy, C; Frank Green, RG; Austin Tate, RT; Manus Fish and Jim Graham, RE; Mal Logan, QB; Fred Murray and Charles Higgins, LHB; Tom Higgins and Dick King, RHB; with Sam Temple, George MacDonald, and Tom Craven, FB. LAST YEAR

1959 — Harvard Stadium . . . Fair . . . 36° temp. . . . Slippery Field . . . Attendance 23,000 . . Each team undefeated at start . . . BLS City champions . . . BLS 22 EHS 6. Latin's great defense stalls English attack. Nine blocks of granite headed by End Paul Barringer contained EHS vaunted ground attack to a mere 25 net yards as Latin won its second successive City crown. A record schoolboy crowd of 23,000 witnessed BLS tie the nation's oldest high school series at 30 victories each and 13 ties. EHS suffered its first defeat of the season and BLS extended its undefeated total to 16 games. Wind was blowing in gusts of 30 m.p.h. and there were many fumbles, BUT it was Latin's under any conditions. Bilodeau, whose passing pulled out a 26-24 thriller last year, gave an even more comprehensive quarterbacking lesson to English this time. The talented 5 ft. 11 in., 160-lb. youngster showed what a difference a year makes while scoring Latin's first two touchdowns. His passing, punting, and play-calling was as good as ever, but it was some nifty Tom-foolery that really started English on the skids. He faked a pass on a roll-out left, darted down the left side lines and ran 44 yards to the English 26. EHS never recovered from this explosive dash that opened the second period. Four plays later Bilodeau sneaked over from the two, then hit Paul Barringer with the conversion pass for an 8 to 0 lead. Later in the third period, Randy Benn, attempting a deep reverse, was tackled in the end zone by Jack Cortelli for a safety after Barringer threw Lehman for a nine-yard loss back to the EHS 10-yard line. Bilodeau again moved from the one-yard line early in the final quarter to complete a 57-yard drive. Letin's last score came in the middle of the last period when Mulcahy ran a few yards to his left and then reversed and darted 72 yards for a touchdown. EHS scored late in the third period when Carey intercepted a pass from Bilodeau, intended for Frame, on the 40. A pass, Lehman to Lovuolo gained 28 yards. Carey ended the march by a diveover from the two for the touchdown.
